> ABOUT ME

For over 20 years, I have been designing and building software, web applications and digital solutions for businesses. Today, I focus on AI-powered systems, AI agents, process automation and API integrations.

I work best on projects that start with a problem rather than a ready-made specification. I analyze the process, design the solution and take it from concept and architecture to a working implementation.

I combine years of software development experience with practical AI expertise and a strong understanding of business processes.

> SELECTED PROJECTS

> REDAGENT_

AI system for building and managing brand communication.

I designed an application that creates brand strategy, personas and communication archetypes, then uses the stored context to generate content and plan publications.

`$ stack: LLM / RAG / Anthropic API / Supabase / Full-Stack / Automation`

> REDIDEA_

Data analytics and business decision-support system.

It combines data from different areas of a business and reveals relationships that are difficult to identify in aggregated reports – including customer profitability, sales, costs and performance trends over time.

`$ stack: Data Analytics / API / SQL / Supabase / Full-Stack`

> VEGVIS.APP_

Platform connecting pet owners, foundations, shelters and veterinarians in one ecosystem.

I design and develop a system covering digital pet profiles, medical history, QR ICE and adoptions. I also built a WordPress plugin integrating foundation and shelter websites with Vegvis.app and eAdopcje.org, automating the publication of animal data.
